Webinar description:

Presenters will provide an overview of their SBIRT implementation efforts in a five discipline collaborative in a state university setting. Early in the planning phases of this SBIRT student training project it became apparent to project team leads, given the complexities and intricacies of each of the participating disciplines, that a “one size fits all” approach would not allow the team to realize their project goals for enhanced SBIRT pre-service education for university students. Presenters will discuss their multi-faceted methods for adapting SBIRT education for nursing, social work, psychology and behavioral health programs.
