

Provider Notice

Engaging the family early in residential treatment is key to ongoing positive outcomes. Magellan created a resource for providers to distribute to families during the intake process. The “Supporting Yourself While Supporting Your Child” tips for caregivers is available on Magellan of Virginia’s website. It can be accessed on the following pages:

Connecting Your Behavioral/Medical Care Team
Residential Program Process
Recovery & Resiliency

This resource is meant to begin the discussion of family support. It provides important tips for caregivers in order to support themselves while their child is in treatment. Magellan encourages you to print this guide and have it available for families at intake. Remember referral is just the beginning. Ongoing support, encouragement and collaboration are key to the successful engagement of any relationship between providers and families.
