Magellan receives residential inquiry

An inquiry for residential treatment may come from the child's parent/guardian, from the child's private provider, from the child's school, or from other relevant sources (e.g., Family Assessment and Planning Team - FAPT).

When the inquiry form is received, the Magellan Residential Care Manager (RCM) will contact the parent/guardian to provide education about community resources and the IACCT process.

The education session will include information on available community resources and education to empower the parent/guardian's understanding of the IACCT process.

If the parent/guardian chooses to pursue the IACCT process, the RCM will work with the family to coordinate face-to-face assessment.

Magellan receives residential referral and completes IACCT Assessment

If residential placement is recommended, the LMHP will send the IACCT Schedules face-to-face assessment

The IACCT LMHP alerts Magellan RCM of face-to-face assessment appointment date. The face-to-face assessment can take place in the LMHP's office, the home, an inpatient facility, or an inpatient hospital.

The IACCT LMHP schedules an addendum.

The IACCT Recommendation Meeting includes the following discussions:

- The alignment of service recommendations with medical necessity criteria
- Viable options to meet the youth's and family's needs
- LMHP recommendations
- Other participants available to attend
- Best practice involvement with the following participants: FSC, FAPT, other relevant community service representatives, and other optional participants requested by the family.
- The alignment of service recommendations with medical necessity criteria

IACCT Recommendation Meeting

The IACCT Recommendation Meeting must be attended by at least three parties to obtain the recommendation.

If the child is receiving residential treatment, the IACCT LMHP will conduct a re-assessment to ensure ongoing medical necessity and review the current residential placement.

If the child has been referred to community based services options via the IACCT process, the LMHP will conduct the completed CANS but will not conduct the CANS follow-up.

If the child has been referred to residential via the IACCT process, the RCM will conduct a reassessment.

The re-assessment process includes:

- A psychological assessment if deemed clinically necessary by the IACCT LMHP.
- A completed CANS as part of a recommendation.
- Recommendations for any updates or changes needed to the current residential placement.
